

Tapping points

Ten tapping points for calm

Think of a problem or worry you have and tap on it, repeating the sentence:

Start at the Karate chop position. "Even though _____ (insert feeling here) I still deeply and completely love and respect myself."

1. Karate chop together on heel of hands
2. Top of head
3. Tip of eyebrow
4. Side of eye
5. Under eye
6. Under nose
7. Chin
8. Collarbone
9. Middle rib
10. Above ankles both sides

How does this work?

Tapping works on the acupuncture points of the body. Repeating the sentence reassures your mind, allowing it to calm down. Sometimes you may need to do a few rounds.

When can I use it?

You can tap on any emotion, whether you are frightened, nervous, angry, scared, crazy or confused.

- If you are feeling scared or afraid – some of us are afraid of flying, or speaking in public. Tap it out before getting on the plane or at home before the presentation.
- You might be stressed or nervous about meeting new people. Tap before you go.
- You might feel isolated or depressed – find a place you can tap on the feeling until you feel better.
- If you feel angry at a person or a situation you can't control. Tap it out. Then rate your emotion from 1 to 10. One is low and ten is high. If it is still five or higher, do another round.
